

Analytix

by AccessLex®

Actionable data for legal education.

➤ Data-informed decision-making is critical for law school leaders and the students they serve. And it is more important than ever to make legal education data actionable and easy to use. Analytix by AccessLex® puts law school data into clear and accessible formats, allowing the legal education community to readily analyze and compare law school-specific information.

SIDE-BY-SIDE COMPARISON

Compare up to eight law schools, side-by-side, across a customizable set of figures for the most recent year.

PEER GROUP COMPARISON

Compare a law school of your choice to a customizable group of institutions.

TREND REPORT

Generate downloadable graphs and charts to display trends for select figures of your choice.

DOWNLOAD DATASET

Create your own dataset with information for all law schools.

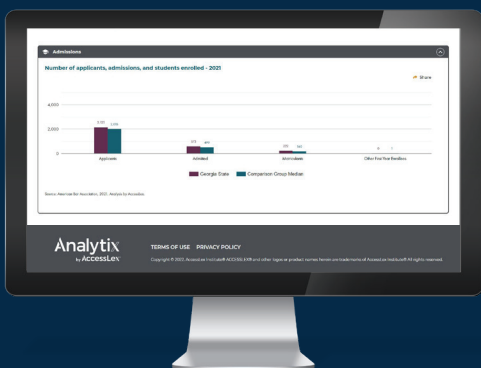

EMPOWERING THE NEXT GENERATION OF LAWYERS®

> Analytix by AccessLex® puts the power to benchmark schools, display trends, gain crucial insights and fuel independent research right into the hands of law school leaders, researchers and other stakeholders.

ANALYTIX IN ACTION

Below is a sample Peer Group Comparison report in which the number of applications, admitted applicants, and enrolled students for a user-selected law school are compared with the median results in these categories for a customized peer group.

Analytix uses publicly available datasets from the American Bar Association (ABA) Section of Legal Education and Admissions to the Bar, the U.S. Department of Education, and U.S. News and World Report.

Copyright © 2022 AccessLex Institute (10/22)

Analytix.AccessLex.org