

Interest on federal student loans will begin accruing again in September, 2023, and payments will resume in October, 2023. Prepare for your loan payments to begin again by completing this checklist.

- Verify your loan types, servicer info, and contact info at StudentAid.gov. Take screen shots of your current info.

- Log in to your loan servicer\(s\) sites to confirm your upcoming payment details and contact information. Take screen shots of your current info.

- Revisit your budget and use Federal Student Aid's Loan Simulator to ensure your payment is affordable and you're on the best plan for your situation.

- Apply for or recertify your income-driven repayment plan if it's the right path for you.

- Avoid federal student loan scams.

- Schedule a free coaching call with an Accredited Financial Counselor® via AccessConnex to discuss your specific situation.

